Why choose Employment and Labor Relations?
The Employment and Labor Relations (ELR) program provides students with the opportunity to develop the critical skills necessary to analyze employment and workplace issues, learn the functions of human resource management and the laws that protect employees. The ELR curriculum is one of a kind. You gain knowledge about human resources and labor relations. You will walk away from this program knowing how to effectively build strong relationships between management and employees to create a healthy working environment. This interdisciplinary program allows students to pursue a wide range of academic interest such as business, law, history, social justice and public administration.

Course topics include:
- Human Resource Management
- Introduction to Labor and Employment Relations
- Healthcare Retirement and Employee Benefits
- Economics of Work

Admission requirements for this program are satisfied by the general requirements for undergraduate admission to Wayne State University.

Ready to declare your major?
Visit go.wayne.edu/declare

Gayle McCreedy, Academic Advisor
313-577-2592
ab3697@wayne.edu
3109 Faculty/Administration Building

To apply go to wayne.edu/admissions. Degree requirements consists of 120 credits of coursework.

For more information go to labor.wayne.edu or call 313-577-5382