Program Overview

Among the leading graduate programs, Employment and Labor Relations (MAELR) provides a challenging and rich educational experience for students pursuing careers in human resource management and labor management relations. You will learn advanced skills in decision making, conflict resolution, contract administration and leadership. Students will be prepared for positions in government, business, law and union organizations. Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to graduate school at Wayne State University.

Apply at gradschool.wayne.edu/admissions. MAELR requires the satisfactory completion (grade C or better) of at least 36 credits in graduate coursework.

Course topics include:

- Management of Human Resources
- Economics of Work
- Introduction to Employment and Labor Relations*
- ELR and HR Analytics*
- Employment Relations Law in North America*

*Courses are available online.

For more information go to labor.wayne.edu or call 313-577-5382