Dean Whitehouse,

Sorry that I was unable to oblige you the other day at the departmental heads meeting by moving over to a seat near Miss Booth. However, when when Miss Dryer delivered your message, I had already nearly finished my soup and half of my salad.

Permit me to congratulate you on the innovation and the way you managed it. On the whole I believe that the idea is a good one. Perhaps we can train the faculty to be less "long winded." And, by limiting discussion to very brief time-limits, we can have a greater number of student criticisms and points of view presented. Also, perhaps it would be interesting to have a group of our strong A and B students present, in addition to "organization leaders."

Well, again, congratulations on a good idea. Having watched you handle the entire situation, permit me to add that you appear to be a diplomat of the first rank.

Regards,

E. B. Skaggs
