Required Text: Sociology: A Down to Earth Approach by Henslin

ISBN: 9780205096541

Course Description: Analysis of basic sociological concepts and principles to give the student an understanding of the perspective that sociology brings to the study of human society.

Course Learning Objectives:

- Develop and demonstrate a basic understanding of major methods and concepts used in the systematic study of society.
- Develop an understanding of the sociological perspective and use it and its theoretical approaches to analyze various aspects of society such as culture, crime, family and education.
- Develop & demonstrate tolerance for a wide range of global, social and cultural viewpoints.

General Course Policies and Guidelines

Attendance: Class attendance is up to you. Please note if you miss class you may miss an unannounced quiz. If you miss the quiz you will not be allowed to make the quiz up. Exceptions will only be made if you have an emergency that causes you to miss class. If you have such an emergency, you must notify me prior to class or as soon as possible. If excused, you will be given time to make up any missed quiz provided you arrange a make-up within 24 hours.

Otherwise, I do not provide an opportunity to make-up quizzes. All make up quizzes are in short essay format.

Cell Phones/ Laptops/Tape Recorders: Using a cell phone in any shape and form is absolutely prohibited in the classroom. Please place all cell phones on vibrate/silent during class. If you must answer the phone or place a phone call, please leave the room quietly. Students are welcome to use their laptop to take notes during class; however, if I find that a student is using the laptop to work on assignments for this course, other classes, or are accessing the Internet, I will ban the use of laptops for ALL students as the maximum consequence. You may not record the class lecture.

Missed Lectures and Office Hours: I will not repeat lecture material during office hours. If you miss a class for any reason, make sure that you have done the reading and get lecture notes from a classmate. Office hours are to be used as a time to address specific questions about course material, course assignments, or your general performance. Come prepared to meet with me with a list of your specific questions. I will not conduct an "office visit" over email.

Plagiarism/Cheating: See Wayne State's Policy on Academic Integrity.

Grading Policy

Final course grades are the result of your collective scores from the following: Four unannounced quizzes, two examinations, your performance on two article summaries, and a presentation. There are 500 total points possible during this course.

Grading Breakdown:

Exam 1=100 Pts
Exam 2=100 Pts
Quizzes=100 Pts
Article Summaries=100 Pts
Presentation: 100 points

Total Points: 500 Points

Quizzes: Four short and unannounced quizzes will be given throughout the semester. These quizzes are multiple choice. Each quiz is worth 25 points and all four are worth a total of 100 points. Quizzes cannot be made up at a later date unless you have an approved absence for the day. Make up quizzes are in short essay format. When the first person to complete the quiz submits, quizzes will no longer be distributed to anyone arriving late. There will be no make-up for those arriving too late to write the quiz.

Examinations: You will have two in class examinations. Each exam is worth 100 points. The questions in each exam cover all the material assigned to that point. All exams will be multiple choice. If you know that you are going to miss an exam, please contact me at least 24 hours before the scheduled exam (if possible) to make arrangements to take the exam. If you fail to provide advanced notice and miss an exam, you will not be allowed to take the exam unless you have extenuating circumstances which must be verified. DO NOT arrive late on exam days. When the first person to complete the exam leaves the room, exams will no longer be distributed to anyone arriving late. There will be no make-up for those arriving too late to write the exam. For each exam, each student is responsible for bringing in a scantron form and No. 2 pencil. These items will not be provided by the instructor.

Extra Credit: Extra credit assignments will not be given in SOC 2000. Students will however be allowed to obtain extra points because extra questions will be placed on the two examinations given during the semester. There is an opportunity to earn a maximum of 25 extra credit points in this course. Ten extra credit questions will be placed on exam #1 and 15 extra credit questions will be placed on exam #2. No other extra credit will be given to students in the class.

Article Summaries: Each student is required to select two articles from any peer-reviewed journal about any sociological topic of interest. Each summary is worth 50 points and should include the following: purpose of the research, hypotheses, data and methods, and your opinion of the article/research. Indicate in your summary if you think this research is important and explain your position. Each summary submitted should be 3-5 pages in length and formatted in APA. Papers that are not formatted appropriately will not be graded. Please pay attention to grammar, punctuation and spelling in this summary. Article summary number one is due by 11:59 p.m. on Thursday, September 26, 2013. Article summary number two is due by 11:59 p.m. on Thursday, October 24, 2013. Summaries must be submitted via Blackboard. Summaries will not be accepted via email. Summaries will not be accepted late.

Presentation: Select a sociological topic of interest to you. Prepare a 10-15 minute presentation on the topic. The presentation should clearly identify your topic of interest. A minimum of five sources are required for this assignment. A maximum of two popular sources are allowed. Students should upload their presentations and reference sheet to Blackboard before the due date. The presentation is due on Thursday, November 14, 2013.

Course Final Grade: Your grade will be based on a total of 500 points possible for the course outlined above, with the final grade assigned on the basis of the table below.

Points Earned	Grade	Points	Grade
		Earned
475 - 500	A	400 - 411	C+
468 - 474	A-	380 - 399	C
447 - 467	B+	360 - 379	C-
430 - 446	В	325 - 359	D
412 - 429	B-	Less than	F
		325

Challenging Grades: If you believe that you have been graded unfairly on any assignment, you must address your concerns to me in writing. You should provide specific points. For example if you believe that a multiple- choice question was graded incorrectly, you most provide evidence from the course book(s) to document your statement. Once I have reviewed your request for a grade change, one of several things may happen: If you are able to show that you are correct your grade will be changed. I may request an in person meeting if I need more clarification on your argument. If you still feel after this process that your grade is not reflective of your effort, your next line of appeal would be through the Sociology Department. Be advised that challenged grades can result either in an increase, a decrease or no change in the grade.

Policy for Grade of Incomplete: As noted in the Undergraduate Bulletin, "An Incomplete is given (to a student) when he/she has not completed all of the course work as planned for the term and when there is, in the judgment of the instructor, a reasonable probability that the student can complete the course successfully without again attending regular class sessions. The responsibility for completing all course work rests entirely with the student. The mark of 'I' will be changed to a grade only when the student completes the course work as arranged with the instructor...." The mark of 'I' which is not converted to a letter grade within one calendar year from the time it was received will be considered Failure under the new rules.

An Incomplete will be granted only in unusual circumstances, for example, serious illness or hospitalization. The plan for removing the incomplete will be stated in writing and this document will be signed by both the student and the instructor.

Withdrawals: Students who find they are not doing well in the course should withdraw from the course. It is the student's responsibility to initiate action for a formal withdrawal. Students who do not officially withdraw but stop attending class and/or do not take scheduled exams will receive a failing grade. No withdrawals are permitted after Saturday, November 9, 2013.

Class Announcements: It is the student's responsibility to inquire about announcements made in class as well as the subject material if you are absent from class.

Student Disability Services: If you have a documented disability that requires accommodations, you will need to register with Student Disability Services for coordination of your academic accommodations. The Student Disability Services (SDS) office is located at 1600 David Adamany Undergraduate Library in the Student Academic Success Services department. SDS telephone number is 313-577-1851 or 313-577-3365 (TTY: telecommunication device for the deaf; phone for hearing impaired students only). Once you have your accommodations in place, I will be glad to meet with you privately during my office hours to discuss your special needs. Student Disability Services' mission is to assist the university in creating an accessible community where students with disabilities have an equal opportunity to fully participate in their educational experience at WSU.

Undergraduate Library (UGL) Writing Center: If you need assistance with writing this semester, I encourage you to visit the UGL Writing Center. The UGL Writing Center at Wayne State takes walk-ins (but prefers appointments). Please view the link below for the center's hours of operation. Students may also email papers / essays to the Writing Center. The Writing Center will provide feedback within three days of submission. The email address is engwc2310@wayne.edu. UGL Writing Center: http://www.clas.wayne.edu/writing.

Changes to the Syllabus: I reserve the right to make adjustments to this syllabus throughout the course if I deem it necessary. Please pay close attention to all announcements in class and on Blackboard.
