

"Whatever sociology may be, it is the result of constantly asking the question, what is the meaning of this?"
C. Wright Mills

Understanding Human Society

SOC 2000

Wayne State University

Detroit, MI

Winter 2016

3 Credit Hours

Tuesday / Thursday 3pm – 4:25pm

Science Hall, Room 2025

Instructor: Michael Sabbagh

ay3127@wayne.edu

Kik: MichaelSabbaghWSU

Campus Office Hours:

Tuesday: 12:30 pm – 2:30 PM & by appointment

Office Location: 2264 Faculty Administration Building

Office Phone: 313-577-2930

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK: You May Ask Yourself: An Introduction to Thinking Like a Sociologist / Full
4th Edition by Dalton Conley ISBN: 978-0-393-91945-5

Additional readings to be passed out in class or available on Blackboard.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Introduction to Sociology! Whether you are a student passionate about sociology or one of the many who take their first sociology course with little idea of what it is, I hope that you will find the following 15 weeks to be engaging, exciting, informative and fun. I look forward to working with each one of you and sharing my love of the discipline. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to enhance your learning experiences in this course.

GOALS

Students who successfully complete this course will develop a rich understanding of the basics of sociology. This course is not focused on purely “factual” learning, or learning facts for the sake of facts. Rather, the focus will be on “conceptual” learning. It is more important to me that you walk away from this class understanding the complex relation of concepts in sociology than being able to recite the facts.

The goals for this course reflect the American Sociological Association's learning objectives for an introductory course to sociology: "[Introduction to] the discipline of sociology and its role in contributing to our understanding of social reality, such that the student will be able to: (a) describe how sociology differs from and is similar to other social sciences and to give examples of these differences; (b) describe how sociology contributes to a liberal arts understanding of social reality; and (c) apply the sociological imagination, sociological principles, and concepts to her/his own life."

There are many times that we will problematize the definitions that we are learning, and understand the concepts for their strengths and some of their weaknesses. How do these concepts change meaning in time or space? With that being said, the main goal of this class is to learn concepts in sociology through a lens of critical thought, with a special eye towards issues of social justice.

Learning outcomes for this course

1. State and illustrate how the sociological imagination can assist in explaining your life.
2. Articulate the usefulness of sociological theory and research in your everyday experience.
3. Analyze how social structure operates and impacts our lives.
4. Understand the history and development of sociology as a field, how it fits within and relates to the other social sciences and other forms of scientific inquiry.
5. Recognize and demonstrate the importance of race, ethnicity, social class, and gender diversity in our society and the world.
6. An understanding of basic concepts in sociology.
7. An elementary knowledge of sociological research.
8. The capacity to evaluate the dynamics between cultures, the economy and politics.
9. Proficiency in reading and comprehending scholarly texts.
11. Accomplishing sound research techniques and presentation skills.
12. Develop internet and computer skills needed for college-level work.
13. Ability to construct complex ideas and to "connect the dots" of concepts.
14. Develop superb critical thinking skills and be able to think deeply about our social lives.
15. And, above all, enjoy yourself while accomplishing the above tasks.

EXPECTATIONS

Overview of Student Expectations:

1. The core of all expectations for this course is respect. I expect that you will respect yourself, your fellow classmates, ideas presented in the classroom, diversity, the instructor and any guests to the classroom. Likewise, I pledge to respect you and your ideas.
2. I consider this classroom to be a safe space free of any types of hate. Any form of racism, sexism, misogyny, classism, ableism, homophobia, transphobia or other kind of bigotry will NOT be tolerated here. Check your privilege at the door.
3. You are expected to actively attend each scheduled class. This means that you are to prepare thoroughly for each class, participate in the class discussion, actively listen and take notes.
4. You will write your own assignments and cite all external sources. Cheating and/or plagiarism may result in an automatic failure for the course.
5. All assignments will be completed with care and scholarly diligence. Please use complete sentences, refrain from slang, spell and grammar check before turning in any assignments.

If you are to miss a class, you are expected to get notes from a fellow student. Room is provided at the bottom of group project handout take down the contact information of your colleagues.

Instructor Expectations:

I pledge to:

1. Be respectful of myself, students, ideas presented in class and classroom guests.
2. Always be prepared for every class.
3. Offer a wide array of opportunities for students to be successful in this course.
4. Exude excitement for topics presented in the course.
5. Offer my support.
6. Be fair and reasonable.
7. Be flexible when needed.
8. Give more than adequate feedback on your performance in the class.

Attendance Expectations:

According to the Norwegian pop band D'Sound, "Bein' there is half the walk." Class discussion in this course is just as important as the readings and assignments, and, alas, if you are not in class, you cannot participate in class discussions. Students are expected to be in class on each day on time. I do not take attendance for the course as I feel you are an adult and should handle that yourself. Do keep in mind that each week of this course costs you around $100 – $200 in tuition fees, depending on your fee schedule. I do not take that responsibility lightly and have planned each class session to compliment the readings and work towards the learning outcomes mentioned earlier.

UPDATE – 25 March 2016

Due to poor class attendance, any student missing more than two of the remaining classes will not be allowed to take the final exam. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of class by a method chosen by the instructor.

Number of Preparation Hours:

As with any undergraduate course you will take, the calculation to determine the amount of time you need to spend on a course to be successful is to spend two hours outside of class for every hour in class. This is a three credit hour class, which means students should expect to spend at least six hours per week outside of class on readings, studying, assignments and journals.

Technology:

Blackboard and Email:

The use of Blackboard and Email is mandatory for this course. Using Blackboard, students are required to watch videos or link to podcasts, post on the discussion board, and check for notices from the instructor. Likewise, WSU email is the primary way I will communicate with you between class sessions. Please let me know if you have trouble with either of these platforms.

Cell Phones:

Please turn all ringers off. Cell phone conversations and texting are prohibited in the classroom. If you need to use your phone, please leave the classroom to make your phone call or send your text and return promptly. If you must constantly interrupt the classroom to use your phone, I may ask you to leave for the day. These situations will be dealt with on a case-to-case basis.

Laptops and Tablets:

I do not encourage students to bring laptops or tablets to class. This isn't because I am opposed to technology in general, but computers can be flirtatious monsters, inviting students to engage in non-class activities such as visiting other websites or checking e-mail, which can distract you and the people around you from what's going on in the classroom. If you must take notes on your laptop, you must ask permission before the start of class and send your notes you took during class to me via email.

Voice Recorders:

Personally I do not mind lectures being recorded but you will need to notify me before class starts if you'll be recording. This way, I can check with the other students in attendance that day (which should be all of you, by the way) to ensure they are comfortable being recorded. This is because class discussions can get personal in nature, and some students may not feel comfortable being recorded.

OVERVIEW OF ASSIGNMENTS

If you are having difficulty in any stage of writing your essays, it is highly suggested that you use the resources the WSU campus has to offer. Please visit the Writing Center in the David Adamany Undergrad Library for assistance with your research assignment.

Writing Center

David Adamany Undergrad Library
Second Floor, Room 2310

Drop In Office Hours

Monday – Tuesday; Thursday 10am – 6pm

Wednesday 10am – 5pm

Friday 11am – 3pm

Website: <http://www.clas.wayne.edu/writing>

Online appointment scheduling:

<http://www.clas.wayne.edu/writing/OnlineSchedulingInstructions>

Exams

There will be two exams in the semester: one midterm and one final. Exams will include short essay questions, multiple-choice and fill in the blank questions. The final will be cumulative, meaning that it will require you to be able to refer to any information discussed throughout the entire term.

The exams will be administered online via Blackboard, each with a time restriction of 90 minutes. Students should prepare for the exams as if they're taken in the classroom setting so too much time is not wasted looking up responses for each question.

It is highly suggested that students make every effort possible to take each of the two exams on the scheduled date. In the event that a student misses a test, a substitute test will be offered. This will be completed on an agreed upon appointment time with the instructor, and handled on a case-by-case basis

Reflection Essays

Students are expected to write five, one – two page reflexive essay throughout the class, due by Friday on the weeks indicated below. You can either submit the essays in class or via Blackboard (no emails please). It can about anything relating to the readings, lectures, personal anecdotes, what you liked or didn't like and so on. I will accept these essays late with a two point per day penalty. The essays are worth 20 points each so it is in your best interest to get them in on time. Think of these essays as a journal tracking your progress through the course.

Group Presentation Project:

You will be given an assignment this semester where you will lead the class discussion. This will be a group project and group members are responsible for their own part of the presentation. See separate handout for details.

Critical Film Discussions

We will watch and discuss three films in class that explore some of the various weeks' themes. There will be a worksheet with questions to facilitate discussion afterwards that will fulfill the assignment requirements. Let me know ahead of time if you are unable to attend the class that day for some form of make-up assignment.

Extra Credit:

Students have several options for earning extra credit in this course. Please note that no extra credit is accepted the final week of class and I typically do not accept essays for extra credit without prior consultation.

1. Students may bring in a newspaper or journal article related to the topic of the day with a short (1-2 paragraph) explanation of how it is relevant to that day's discussion.
2. Attend an activity, presentation or exhibition on a class topic. Then, write up a 1-2 page review on this activity, presentation or exhibition that must be submitted within 72 hours of the event.

Evaluation of Assessments

Your performance in this course will be evaluated in the following manner:

- Reflection Essays: 20 points each / 5 essay – 100 points total
- Critical Film Discussions: 10 points each / 3 films – 30 points total
- Group Presentation: 100 points
- Midterm Exam: 100 points
- Final Exam: 100 points

Total: 430 points

Grading Scale

100% - 90%	A	72% - 70%	C
89% - 86%	A-	69% - 66%	C-
85% - 83%	B+	65% - 63%	D+
82% - 80%	B	62% - 60%	D
79% - 76%	B-	59% - 51%	D-
75% - 73%	C+

Anything below this threshold will receive a failure for the course.

Note: I will be diligent about getting grades up on Blackboard in as timely of a fashion as possible.

It is up to each student to keep track of her or his marks as the semester goes on. Please see me if you have concerns about your point total or if you are having problems in the course. Do not wait until the last minute to inquire about your grade.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Accommodation Statement

If you have a documented disability that requires accommodations, you will need to register with Student Disability Services for coordination of your academic accommodations. The Student Disability Services (SDS) office is located at 1600 David Adamany Undergraduate Library in the Student Academic Success Services department. SDS telephone number is 313-577-1851 or 313-577-3365 (TDD only). Once you have your accommodations in place, I will be glad to meet with you privately during my office hours to discuss your special needs. Student Disability Services' mission is to assist the university in creating an accessible community where students with disabilities have an equal opportunity to fully participate in their educational experience at Wayne State University." Please refer to the SDS website for further information about students with disabilities and the services we provide for faculty and students:
<http://studentdisability.wayne.edu/>

Plagiarism Statement

Assignments that have been copied from another student or another source will not be scored. All papers will be run through the SafeAssign plagiarism system which detects attempts at copying text. "Academic misbehavior means any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the institution or subvert the education process. All forms of academic misbehavior are prohibited at Wayne State University, as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct." (WSU Dean of Students Office Statement, 2014). The following website gives the university's full policy on academic integrity:
<http://doso.wayne.edu/academic-integrity.html>

I understand there are many gray areas when it comes to plagiarism. Don't hesitate to contact me or stop by during office hours if you have questions or need guidance.

A Final Note:

Due to the nature of the topic of this course, some points discussed in class may be controversial, uncomfortable or lead to heated debates. Learning something new isn't always comfortable and often our personal judgments cloud our ability to learn to the fullest. Please try to keep those judgments outside of the 'classroom' and focus on gaining new knowledge while in class or reading the assigned texts. If you have strong feelings about anything brought up in class by either your fellow classmates or me, please feel free to make an appointment to come talk speak with me. I am more than willing to listen to your concerns.

The instructor may make changes to this course outline as needed during the course. Please be attentive for possible modifications and regularly check your Wayne State email.

COURSE TIMELINE

DATE	TOPIC	READING/ASSIGNMENT
-------------	--------------	---------------------------

Week 1 - Introductions
Tues Jan 12	Syllabus Review + Group signup	<NONE>
Thurs Jan 14	The Sociological Imagination	Conley, Chapter 1
Week 2 - Foundations
Tues Jan 19	Methodology in the Social Sciences	Conley, Chapter 2
Thurs Jan 21	Groups and Networks	Conley, Chapter 5
Fri Jan 22		1st Essay Due
Week 3 – Socialization
Tues Jan 26	Socialization and the Construction of Reality	Conley, Chapter 4
Thurs Jan 28	Film & Discussion: Jesus Camp	<NONE>
Week 4 – Media
Tues Feb 2	Culture and Media	Conley, Chapter 3
Thurs Feb 4	Video & Discussion: Generation Like	Readings on Blackboard
Fri Feb 5		2nd Essay Due
Week 5 – Social Institutions
Tues Feb 9	Family	Conley, Chapter 12
Thurs Feb 11	Guest Lecture: Salam Aboulhassan – Religion, Families and Social Control	<NONE>
Week 6 – Social Control
Tues Feb 16	Social Control and Deviance	Conley, Chapter 6
Thurs Feb 18	Know Your Rights Training	<NONE>
Fri Feb 19		3rd Essay Due
Week 7 – Gender, Sex & Sexuality
Tues Feb 23	Gender	Conley, Chapter 8
Thurs Feb 25	Sex and Sexuality	Readings on Blackboard
Week 8 – Health and Society
Tues Mar 1	Health and Society	Conley, Chapter 11
Thurs Mar 3	Guest Lecture: Amanda Levitt – Body image and Fat Activism	Readings on Blackboard
Week 9 – Midterm
Tues Mar 8	Midterm Review	<NONE>
Thurs Mar 10	Midterm Exam
SPRING BREAK: MARCH 14 – MARCH 20
Week 10 - Inequality
Tues Mar 22	Stratification	Conley, Chapter 7
Thurs Mar 24	Poverty	Conley, Chapter 10
Week 11 – Race
Tues Mar 29	Race	Conley, Chap 9
Thurs Mar 31	Contemporary Racial Discourse	Readings on Blackboard
Fri Apr 1		4th Essay Due
Week 12 – Identity Politics
Tues Apr 5	Intersectionality	Readings on Blackboard
Thurs Apr 7	Film & Discussion: Paris is Burning	<NONE>

Week 13 – Social Movements and Civil Rights
Tues Apr 12	History of US Social Movements	Readings on Blackboard
Thurs Apr 14	Detroit’s Urban Crisis	Readings on Blackboard
Fri Apr 15		5th Essay Due
Week 14 – Final
Tues Apr 19	Final Review	<NONE>
Thurs Apr 21	Final Exam

IMPORTANT DATES

January 18th	University closed: Martin Luther King Day
January 25th	Last day to drop course without tuition penalty
February 7th	Last day to drop course without instructor approval
March 10th	Midterm Exam
March 14th – March 20th	University closed: Spring Break
March 27th	Last day to drop course with instructor approval
April 14th	Last day to submit extra credit
April 21rd	Final Exam